

Maritime Trip Day 03, August 25, 2010 20 degrees C (68 degrees F) and sunny

The campground's name was true to form—it was a Misty Morning on the Lake as we left at 9:45 am. Our first Canadian gas station experience cost $1.03 per liter or about $4.00 per gallon but it was Full Service! There was tons of construction along the way to Ottawa which makes sense since there is a short time of good weather here and a long time of winter weather! We saw our first "Moose Crossing" sign, although there were no moose to be seen. We have, however, seen little rock piles that look like critters on the top of many boulders. We're wondering who makes them.

After arriving at the Ottawa Municipal Campground we checked into sites 5 & 6 and headed back to the Costco & Home Depot we had passed a short distance ago. Our favorite shopping places here in the Canadian wilderness (!!??). We also restocked some supplies at the local grocery store which was very modern! They had milk in plastic bags and water in a 4 liter bottles and charged 5 cents for a plastic bag!

Dinner was another picnic at our campsite. We finished off my Dad's cucumbers, and his zucchini which I had made into a casserole following Sheryl S. & Sharon S. Recipe, along with the pork tenderloin Larry had grilled for us! Delicious! Three quick games of Chickenfoot dominoes ended our evening with Lorene the winner! We're expecting a rain tonight and a drop in temperature. Tomorrow we start touring Ottawa.
